Document Status: Approved | Owner: Human Resources / Corporate Operations

1. Purpose and Scope

BlueOrbit Solutions Pvt. Ltd. is a fictional technology services company. This handbook defines common workplace expectations and general employee practices for full-time employees, interns, and fixed-term employees unless a specific policy states otherwise.

Where this handbook conflicts with a dedicated policy, the dedicated policy takes precedence.

2. Company Overview

BlueOrbit provides software engineering, analytics, cloud, and business technology services to clients in India and selected international markets.

Core values: integrity, customer focus, ownership, collaboration, continuous learning, and respect.

Standard working hours: 9:00 AM to 6:00 PM local office time, Monday through Friday, with a one-hour lunch break. Teams may have approved schedules that differ because of client or operational requirements.

3. Attendance and Punctuality

Employees are expected to be available during their approved working schedule and to record attendance through the designated HR system.

- Employees should inform their manager as early as possible when they expect to be late or absent.
- Repeated unapproved absence or attendance irregularities may be reviewed by the manager and HR.
- Remote employees must remain reachable during core working hours defined by the applicable Work From Home Policy.

4. Employee Conduct and Code of Ethics

Employees must act honestly, respectfully, and professionally when dealing with colleagues, clients, vendors, and visitors.

- Harassment, discrimination, intimidation, retaliation, and workplace violence are prohibited.
- Employees must protect confidential company and client information.
- Conflicts of interest must be disclosed to the manager or HR.
- Company resources must be used primarily for legitimate business purposes.

5. Workplace Behavior

Employees should maintain a professional environment, respect different viewpoints, communicate constructively, and avoid behavior that disrupts others.

Employees are responsible for following the Security Policy when handling company devices, credentials, data, email, and external storage.

6. Office Access and Facilities

Employees may enter only offices and areas for which they have authorization. Visitors must follow reception and visitor-registration procedures.

Employees must display or carry their company identification badge as required by the office.

Office facilities such as meeting rooms, cafeterias, parking, and collaboration spaces should be used responsibly.

7. Holidays and Leave

Company holidays are published annually by HR for each office location.

Leave entitlements and approval requirements are governed by the Leave Policy. Employees should not rely on this handbook for individual leave balances.

8. Probation

New employees normally complete a six-month probation period unless their employment letter specifies otherwise.

During probation, performance, attendance, conduct, and role fit are reviewed. Leave eligibility during probation is subject to the Leave Policy and applicable employment terms.

9. Performance Reviews

Formal performance reviews are normally conducted twice each year. Managers may also provide informal feedback throughout the year.

Reviews may consider delivery, quality, collaboration, ownership, customer impact, learning, and adherence to company policies.

10. Promotions and Career Development

Promotions are based on demonstrated performance, role expectations, business requirements, skills, and sustained impact. Completion of a minimum tenure does not automatically guarantee promotion.

Employees are encouraged to discuss development goals with their manager during regular one-on-ones.

11. Employee Responsibilities

- Follow company policies and applicable laws.
- Protect company property and confidential information.
- Complete required training on time.
